

CLARENCE M. JONES VICTIM OF INFLUENZA

PROMINENT YOUNG MAN SUC-
CUMBS TO VICIOUS DISEASE
AFTER WEEK'S ILLNESS.

WAS EXPERT TELEPHONE MAN

Survived by His Wife, Parents, Three Brothers and Three Sisters. Funeral Arrangements Undecided.

Clarence Mark Jones, the genial and very obliging electrician for the Delaware County Telephone company, passed away at his home on Liberty street, Monday evening, September 30th, 1918, after an illness of a week. Last Saturday, September 21st, Mr. Jones was taken ill with a severe cold, resembling a hard attack of the grip. His condition at once became serious from the very outset, and as time went on symptoms of Spanish influenza became marked. This culminated in pneumonia on Saturday, and from that time on his condition became acute, and he gradually became weaker, until his power of resistance had reached its limit, and death released him of his suffering at a late hour Monday evening.

Mr. Jones was born in the state of Nebraska, October 1st, 1889, and when a mere lad his parents came to Delaware county, locating in the vicinity of Greeley, where he grew to manhood. He was united in marriage with Miss Gladys Welterien of Edgewood, Iowa, on May 9th, 1916, and for a time they resided in the Summerhouse residence on Fayette street, later moving to the Schmidt cottage on Liberty street, where his death occurred.

He is survived by his wife, his father, William S. Jones, at present in Albia, Canada, and his mother, Mrs. Emma Jones, of San Francisco, California; and by three sisters, Nell Jones; and Elsie and Grace Jones, of California; and three brothers, William, of California; George, who is in the army; and a half brother, Lee Webb, of Oelwein. He is also survived by an aunt, Mrs. Sarah Ridenour, and cousins, living at Greeley.

Clarence Jones was one of the finest young men that it has been our privilege to know intimately. He possessed the happy faculty of being good natured and pleasant under all circumstances. No one ever heard him speak ill of any one, and when telephone patrons became impatient over some trifling defect about the system, Clarence had the ability to locate and remedy the difficulty, and always left the company's patrons in good spirits. He was in the employ of the company for eleven years. He was a member of the Masonic and K. P. lodges, and in these circles he was just as popular as he was among the people with whom he dealt by reason of his position as electrician for the telephone company.

His death comes as a severe blow to his host of friends, who have learned to know him so intimately. His untimely death, felt so keenly by the people of the community, comes with crushing force to the young wife, with whom he lived so happily for a brief space of only two years.

A happy home has been turned to a house of grief, because of the ravages of a disease that is taking such a toll in precious young lives all over this country; and in this hour of sorrow, Mrs. Jones, and all those who were attached to the young man by tender family ties, have the sympathy of this community.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of the relatives living at a great distance.

HIGH SCHOOL LECTURE COURSE.

The first number on the High School Lecture Course will be furnished by the Featherstone Company, at the High School Assembly room, Oct. 7, 1918, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Lecture Course will consist of five numbers given at different dates through the winter; the Featherstone Company consists of three musicians which furnish an evening's musical entertainment on thirty-two musical instruments. They are artists in their work and everyone should hear them. Season tickets sell for $1.50 for adults, $1.00 for school children. There will be an extra charge for war tax, 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children on the entire course which will be collected at the first number.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association for the new year will be held at the High school auditorium Monday, October 7th, at 3:15 P. M. All interested in school problems are urged to attend. The program will be on "War Time Clothing." Music will be furnished by the second grade pupils. A talk on "Wool Conservation by the Home Demonstration Agent." Red Cross garments, by Mrs. Philipp. Junior Red Cross Work, by Miss Packard. Clothing for French Orphans, by Mrs. Mabel Yoran.

VAN ANDA-RHINES.
Mrs. Minnie Van Anda of this city, and Mr. Joe Rhines of near the Quaker Mill, northwest of Manchester, were united in marriage at Marion, September 25th, 1918. Mr. Rhines has rented one of the Moorehouse residences just west of the High school, and he and his wife will go to house-keeping there this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Rhines have a host of friends in Manchester who extend sincere good wishes to them.

INFLUENZA

Army, Navy, City and State Physicians Prepare Instructions to Fight Epidemic.

In a five-hour conference recently, army, navy, city and state physicians prepared a general code of instructions for the guidance of the public during the present epidemic of influenza. Their statement, including the instructions, follow:

We are confronted by an epidemic of influenza which will affect more than half of our population in all probability. There is a shortage of physicians, nurses, and hospital accommodations. The health and efficiency of the civilian population must be maintained. It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to avoid influenza and keep in good health. To avoid influenza:

"Avoid contact with other people so far as possible. Especially avoid crowds indoors, in street cars, theaters, motion picture houses, and other places of public assemblage.

Avoid persons suffering from "colds," sore throats and coughs.

Avoid chilling of the body or living in rooms of temperature below 65 degrees or above 72.

"Sleep and work in clean, fresh air.

"Keep your hands clean and keep them out of your mouth.

"Avoid expectorating in public places and see that others do likewise.

"Avoid the sick.

"Eat plain, nourishing food and avoid alcoholic stimulants.

"Cover your nose with your handkerchief when you sneeze, your mouth when you cough. Change handkerchiefs frequently. Promptly discard soiled handkerchiefs by boiling or washing with soap and water.

"Don't worry, and keep your feet warm. Wet feet demand prompt attention. Wet clothes are dangerous and must be removed as soon as possible.

What to Do for Influenza and Colds.
"Often times it is impossible to tell a cold from mild influenza. Therefore:

"If you get a cold, go to bed in a well ventilated room. Keep warm.

"Keep away from other people. Do not kiss anyone. Use individual basins, and knives, forks, spoons, towels, handkerchiefs, soap, wash plates and cups.

Every case of influenza should go to bed at once under the care of a physician. The patient should stay in bed at least three days after fever has subsided and until convalescence is well established.

The patient must not cough or sneeze except when a mask or handkerchief is held before the face.

He should be in a warm, well ventilated room.

There is no specific for the disease. Symptoms should be met as they arise.

The great danger is from pneumonia. Avoid it by staying in bed while actually ill and until convalescence is fully established.

The after effects of influenza are worse than disease. Take care of yourself.

Strictly observe the state and city rules and regulations for the control of influenza.

DELAWARE COUNTY NORMAL INSTITUTE.

The annual inspirational and intellectual institute for Delaware County was held at the high school building on Thursday and Friday of last week. The attendance was large and the interest shown on the part of Delaware County teachers speaks well for their professional spirit.

The faculty secured by our County Superintendent proved to be excellent in every way and were all well received by the teachers. J. L. McBrien, a former State Superintendent of Nebraska, delivered two able and up-to-date addresses on Friday, using as his subjects "Education for World Democracy vs. Education for World Autocracy" and "The Ideal Teacher."

President Colgrove of Upper Iowa University, who has probably assisted at more institutes than any other teacher in Iowa, lectured Thursday morning and afternoon. His success with teachers is always assured. Miss Effie Schuneman, who is assistant professor of art at I. S. T. C., was of great benefit to the teachers in her discussions of primary work and war time poster problems.

Another lecture of interest to all was given on Friday by Chas. F. Pye, the present secretary of the Iowa State Teachers Association. An opportunity was given the teachers to enroll in our State Association and about 150 responded.

The program given on Thursday evening by Alma Cutler Brown, violinist of Epworth, Iowa, and Miss Doris Baker, reader, was well received by a large audience of teachers and visitors. It was equal to any Chautauqua program. The music for the entire institute was furnished by Miss Brown and the High School and Junior High School Chorus, and the Manchester Concert Orchestra.

At the close of the program on Thursday evening a reception was given by the teachers of Manchester for all visitors, including teachers and patrons of the school.

CARD OF THANKS.
We desire to thank all of our neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses shown us and the words of sympathy expressed over the loss of our beloved son, Elliott E. Graham.
MR. AND MRS. ALEX. GRAHAM.

VINCENT F. MCENANY ANSWERS SUMMONS

DEATH RESULTS FROM INFLUENZA AT GREAT LAKES NAVAL HOSPITAL IN CHICAGO.

FUNERAL HELD MONDAY AT RYAN

Young Man Was Well Known in Delaware County. Comes From Prominent Family.

Vincent Francis McEnany, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McEnany, of Adams township, died at the Great Lakes Naval hospital Friday evening, Sept. 27, 1918, at 6:15, following a siege of pneumonia, which was caused by an attack of Spanish influenza. The young sailor was taken ill with influenza on September 21st. He fought bravely against the ravages of the disease and for a time it was believed that he would recover. After battling for several days, pneumonia developed, as is the case in so many instances, and he rapidly lost ground in the race for life. His parents were notified of his condition, and the father at once went to the boy's bedside. Mr. McEnany reached the hospital Friday noon, and was with his son when the end came.

The remains were brought to the family home Sunday morning, and funeral services were held at the Catholic church at Ryan Monday morning. The services were largely attended. Many from Manchester and Greeley attended the services. Rev. Father John Malloy, formerly pastor of the Ryan church, but now at Waterloo, preached the funeral sermon, and spoke eloquently of the exemplary life of the young sailor, who was beloved by the people of Ryan and vicinity. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery south of Ryan.

Vincent Francis McEnany was born at Coggon, Iowa, January 22nd, 1895. He spent practically all of his life on the farm. For some time he was manager of the Standard Oil company's station at Greeley, and later held the same position for the Standard Oil company at Independence. He disposed of his interests at Independence last summer in order to enter the service of the government. His ambition to serve his country prompted him to enter the navy. He was at first prevented from doing so because of physical reasons. In order to gain admittance he submitted to a very serious operation at Dubuque, and during this ordeal he nearly lost his life. After recovering from the operation, he again applied for admission to the navy, and on July 12th, 1918, he was accepted, and entered the Great Lakes Station. He at once applied himself to the task of a sailor with the same determination that characterized his whole life, and was making an enviable record in the training station. During the big war exhibit in Chicago Mr. McEnany was honored by being assigned guard at the main entrance and was scheduled to accompany the exhibit in the capacity of guard to New York City. At about the time he was to leave Chicago, he was stricken ill with influenza.

Mr. McEnany is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McEnany, the latter of whom is the only sister of Sheriff J. J. Pentony of this city. He is also survived by five brothers and four sisters. These are Peter E. McEnany of Bowdle, South Dakota; Mrs. J. E. McElligott, of Ryan; Earl McEnany, orderly in the United States hospital at Ft. Des Moines; Albert L. McEnany, at home but awaiting the call in the next draft; Madge A. Elden, Joseph, Anna and Mabel, all at home.

Mr. McEnany's death comes as a crushing blow to the family and large circle of friends. His untimely death has again brought home the grim realities of the horrors of war which Prussian barbarism has turned loose on an innocent world. Although prevented from participation in the deadly conflict that is now going on in Europe, Vincent McEnany has served his country well, and has made the supreme sacrifice in order that Democracy may triumph.

The sympathy of many friends goes out to the family in their great loss.

NEW CASHIER AT FIRST NATIONAL

Yesterday the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of this city, accepted the resignation of Captain D. A. Preussner as cashier, with the understanding that the Captain would not sever his connection with the bank. He will continue as a member of the board of directors and when he returns from the army a place will be made for him in the bank.

Immediately following the acceptance of Captain Preussner's resignation, R. D. Graham was elected as the bank's cashier. Mr. Graham is one of the best known and best liked men in the county. He served as clerk of the District Court for a number of years, and has also had considerable experience in the county as a banker.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR SAILOR BOY.

Funeral services for Elliott E. Graham, who died at the hospital in Brooklyn New York, were held at the Methodist Episcopal church of this city last Friday morning. The services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Montgomery, pastor of the Presbyterian church. All of the business houses of Manchester and Ryan were closed during the funeral hour, and a large number of the friends of the family attended the services. Following the services the remains were taken to New Hartford, Iowa, and laid to rest in the family lot.

YOUNG CROSIER.

Miss Belle Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Young, and Mr. Bert C. Crozier, of this city were united in marriage at Waterloo last Saturday, September 28th, 1918. The young people are spending the week on a wedding trip, and upon their return will go to housekeeping in the groom's mother's residence on Clara Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Crozier are well known to Manchester people and have a host of friends who extend to them the heartiest good wishes for a long and happy married life.

FALL TERM OF COURT BEGINS OCTOBER 14TH.

The regular fall term of court begins on October 14th, with Judge Boles of Waterloo presiding. Quite a number of new cases will appear on the calendar. The attorneys of Delaware county are reminded that tomorrow—Thursday—is the last day for filing new cases, as the docket is made up later in the week.

SALE OF THOROUGHBRED HOGS.

George S. Banta and Wm. J. Claus announce a sale of Duroc Jersey and Big Type Poland Chins hogs, to be held at the Novelty stables in Manchester Saturday, October 5th, at 2 p. m. E. J. Hopkins is the auctioneer. Farmers here is your opportunity to secure some of the finest hogs in the county. Many of these hogs were prize winners at the recent Delaware County fair. The advertisement appears on another page of this issue.

PLAZA THEATRE PROGRAM.

Wednesday, (Tonight) "On the Level," with Fannie Ward.

Thursday, "The Judgment House," with T. Stewart Blackton.

Friday, Constance Talmadge in "The Road with Salile."

Saturday, Pathé News, "Native State," Son of Democracy No. 7, and Sennet Comedy.

Sunday and Monday, "The Ordeal of Rosetta," with Alice Brady.

Tuesday, "The Service Star," with Madge Kennedy.

Wednesday, Elsie Ferguson in "The Rise of Jennie Cushing."

Coming—Sunday and Monday special, "For the Freedom of the World."

VINCENT F. MCENANY
Died at Great Lakes Station Sept. 27, 1918.

WILLIAM J. BRITT
Died at Great Lakes Station Sept. 20, 1918.

ELLIOTT E. GRAHAM
Died at Brooklyn Naval Hospital, September 29, 1918.

LETTERS FROM HOME BOYS NOW IN FRANCE

CRUISE AMSDEN TELLS OF WORK HE IS DOING IN SIXTH CAV. ALBY BAND.

PARIS ATTRACTS EYE OF YANKS

Rainbow Division Is Commended by High Official for Work Done During Big Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Arnsden received an interesting letter from their son, Cruise, who is now assistant director of the Sixth U. S. Cavalry band, General Pershing's original organization during the Mexican uprising. Cruise has been with the Sixth Cavalry since his enlistment in the army, and has been in France or some time.

Writing to his parents recently he says:

"We are still in this 'Tre' Jolie little city of Tours. It is hard luck not to have a hand in the grand and glorious job of 'cleaning up' at the front, but one one has to stay here in the 'Ser-vice of supplies,' fighting the terrific battle of 'Tours'."

"We hope before long to get a crack at the Boche, though. General Pershing was here one day not long ago, and the band turned out with 'Hail to the Chief,' and 'Stars and Stripes over.' He made a short speech in which he praised and encouraged the boys. M. C. and stated that after while he was coming back here and organize a couple of divisions to enter Berlin in the rest, just to prove the importance of the work that is being done here."

"The band men are kept pretty busy relieving me, and they are increasing in point of numbers and efficiency. We play a little 'Jazz' from 12:30 o'clock every day here at the barracks. We play hospital concerts in the afternoon and then play on the boulevards and in the parks in the evening. Always a Sunday afternoon concert in one of the parks and these attract enormous crowds."

"I have a regular Sunday night job at one of the theatres for which I draw extra pay. Ten francs for two shows."

"We play every morning out at the alvage plant. This is where the uarter Master's corps sends all the stuff from the front, such as old uniforms, unserviceable guns, rifles and so on. Ellinor Glyn was out there one day. We played and I also heard Lia Wheeler Wilcox at the T. M. C. A. a short time ago. There are five thousand French girls working at the alvage but they are so forlorn, dirty and generally worn out of war, that they are not very attractive. Paris is the place to see the swell looking women, who have apparently not been touched by the hand of war. We had a large part of our time to ourselves during the weeks we were in Paris and I improved every opportunity to see the sights, but even at that I feel that I have only made a beginning. I sincerely hope we will have another chance at gay Paris before we come home. I am working hard on my French now, having engaged a French instructor for three francs an hour twice a week."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely a success. It is one of the oldest cities in France and it seems as though every other corner has a little flower garden or park. All along the rivers are beautiful terraces and promenades. Some different from our American rivers with their factories, smokeboats and so on. Chicago river for instance. The people here seem to have the right idea about how to live; there seems to be no worry about the price of cheese."

LETTERS FROM HOME BOYS NOW IN FRANCE

CRUISE AMSDEN TELLS OF WORK HE IS DOING IN SIXTH CAV. ALBY BAND.

PARIS ATTRACTS EYE OF YANKS

Rainbow Division Is Commended by High Official for Work Done During Big Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Arnsden received an interesting letter from their son, Cruise, who is now assistant director of the Sixth U. S. Cavalry band, General Pershing's original organization during the Mexican uprising. Cruise has been with the Sixth Cavalry since his enlistment in the army, and has been in France or some time.

Writing to his parents recently he says:

"We are still in this 'Tre' Jolie little city of Tours. It is hard luck not to have a hand in the grand and glorious job of 'cleaning up' at the front, but one one has to stay here in the 'Ser-vice of supplies,' fighting the terrific battle of 'Tours'."

"We hope before long to get a crack at the Boche, though. General Pershing was here one day not long ago, and the band turned out with 'Hail to the Chief,' and 'Stars and Stripes over.' He made a short speech in which he praised and encouraged the boys. M. C. and stated that after while he was coming back here and organize a couple of divisions to enter Berlin in the rest, just to prove the importance of the work that is being done here."

"The band men are kept pretty busy relieving me, and they are increasing in point of numbers and efficiency. We play a little 'Jazz' from 12:30 o'clock every day here at the barracks. We play hospital concerts in the afternoon and then play on the boulevards and in the parks in the evening. Always a Sunday afternoon concert in one of the parks and these attract enormous crowds."

"I have a regular Sunday night job at one of the theatres for which I draw extra pay. Ten francs for two shows."

"We play every morning out at the alvage plant. This is where the uarter Master's corps sends all the stuff from the front, such as old uniforms, unserviceable guns, rifles and so on. Ellinor Glyn was out there one day. We played and I also heard Lia Wheeler Wilcox at the T. M. C. A. a short time ago. There are five thousand French girls working at the alvage but they are so forlorn, dirty and generally worn out of war, that they are not very attractive. Paris is the place to see the swell looking women, who have apparently not been touched by the hand of war. We had a large part of our time to ourselves during the weeks we were in Paris and I improved every opportunity to see the sights, but even at that I feel that I have only made a beginning. I sincerely hope we will have another chance at gay Paris before we come home. I am working hard on my French now, having engaged a French instructor for three francs an hour twice a week."

Paris is a wonderful city, but it could be hard to find a more beautiful place than this city of Tours. Everything seems to have been built to please the eye alone and if that was the object it was surely